Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader)

Ye have said, it is vain to serve God; and what profit is it that we have kept His ordinances, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts?

And now we call the proud happy; yea they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.

Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name.

And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. —Malachi 3:14-17.

Sound Film at Alliance Church Sunday 8 p.m.

A place of dark shadows—the shadows of paganism, superstition, ignorance, death and sin—will be viewed on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Irma Alliance Church in the sound color film, "Shadow of Shangri La".

Its portrayal is of the most sensational mission field of the world today—New Guinea, where the dramatic Missionary entry invaded the Balien Valley in March, 1954.

This land, which time forgot, and its strange stone inhabitants, will be vividly portrayed while those in attendance will wonder how any region inhabited by human beings for so many centuries could still remain so crude and unenlightened. The film gives a down-to-earth witness of the witch doctors' mysterious incantations, of bodies crippled by cruel mutilations in mourning for the dead, of eye witness reports of cannibalism, and all the horrors of torture and disgusting disease. It recounts the native chants of the Kapauku Christians and the contrasted will of the pagan war dance—depicting the heathen, clothed only in war paint and feathers, bearing bows and spears, circling in wild demonstration, shouting forth his heart—screaming defiance to his enemies. This and much more will make up the film of Shangri La—the land with no word for God, no word for love, no word for sin.

The public is urged and cordially invited to attend this most unusual film, Sunday at 8 p.m.

CGIT GRADUATION SERVICE HELD

On Wednesday, May 21st, the CGIT graduation services were held in the Irma United Church. CGIT graduation is one of the highlights of our church year and this occasion was marked by a good attendance of girls and their mothers and members of the church congregation.

The two young ladies who have completed and fulfilled the requirements this year of graduation from CGIT into larger fields of Christian service are Miss Laraine Pond and Miss Alice Fischer.

Mrs. H. W. Inglis has been their leader and teacher and this is the third year in which her group has presented graduates to the congregation.

Miss Linda Daniels conducted the graduation service in a very capable manner. Scripture was read by Miss Jean Darling.

The Valedictory address was made by Miss Alice Fischer who told of the four fold program of CGIT and what benefits and wonderful experiences there are to be found when "as a Canadian Girl in Training under the leadership of Jesus" one learns to cherish health, seek truth, know God and serve others and by his help become the girl that God would have her be.

She found the quest of knowing God the most challenging of all and expressed her determination to follow along the path of Christian service.

Following Alice's speech, Mrs. R. L. Simmerman sang "Be Ye Kind".

The Rev. H. W. Inglis then addressed the gathering and told of the satisfaction and pleasure felt when two such fine girls have succeeded in completing the high standards necessary for CGIT graduates and of how happy we all are to welcome them to other mediums of Christian work.

Mrs. Inglis then took charge of the graduation ceremony and presented the girls with their well deserved diplomas.

Following the prayer of dedication, "O Jesus I have Promised," was sung.

After the Benediction and the recessional, a receiving line was formed and all came forward to shake hands with the graduates and their mothers. The graduates were also presented to Mr. Inglis and representatives of the W.A., the W.M.S. and the Session.

A reception followed in the basement.

A welcome was given to all present, especially to the senior Explorers who will be in CGIT next fall.

Miss Lorraine Smallwood, our first CGIT graduate was also presented to the gathering.

Miss Carolyn Inklin on behalf of the Intermediate group presented the graduates with graduation pins.

Mrs. H. Riley on behalf of the W.M.S. pinned American Beauty corsages on the graduates.

Alice and Laraine then presented Mrs. Inglis with the gift of a cake plate and bon bon dish. Mrs. Inglis gave each of the girls a devotional book.

A sing-song was conducted by Misses Carol Fischer and Carol Smallwood and a film taken at Camp Councils was enjoyed by all—especially because it was possible on several occasions to recognize Miss Marion Smallwood on this film. Marion was our delegate two years ago.

A truly delicious lunch was then served by the W.A.

Miss Laraine Pond then thanked the W.A. for all their kindnesses, also the W.M.S., Mrs. Inglis for her wonderful leadership and guidance and the mothers who had helped and also her mother and Alice's mother who had made sacrifices to help the girls keep regular attendance.

On Friday last, the Intermediate group of the CGIT held a party in the church basement and entertained a group of the senior ladies of Irma. Miss Carolyn Inklin was in charge and a fine program of musical numbers, recitations, a dramatization, and games were enjoyed.

The girls were in complete charge and topped the afternoon off by serving their guests a most delicious supper.

CGIT is now closed until September. The girls have completed a most worthwhile year's work.

The Weather . . .

We have only had a few small showers so far. The country is looking beautiful, these warm days and there is moisture in the subsoil left over from the wet weather of last fall and the melting snow of spring. A good general rain would be appreciated, however.

We never attempt to prophecy the weather but we have it on the best authority that wedding bells will be ringing all summer long—the strength of that information we can say showers may be expected.

Alberta Member Suggests Building MP Quarters

OTTAWA—A suggestion that the government build rental accommodations in the capital for members of Parliament during parliamentary sessions was put before the Commons Friday by a freshman member from Alberta.

Progressive Conservative Clifford S. Smallwood, Battle River-Camrose, a farmer and 42-year old father of four children, made the suggestion in a resolution on the order paper which may be debated later in the session.

It suggested "reasonable" rentals for non-resident MPs.

Commons members receive $100 a year; $2,000 a year for a tax-free expense allowance. Many, especially those from distant constituencies, maintain residences in their home towns for their families and live in rooming houses and hotels in Ottawa during sessions.

Extra values

By C. J. HARRIS

A very extensive, and perhaps very difficult, educational drive is being undertaken to support a nation-wide "Buy Canadian" — Keep Canadians Working — campaign. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association is behind the drive and its president, H. V. Lush, keynotes the campaign thus: "If manufacturing falters and workers are laid off in growing numbers, every other segment of the economy feels it. The fisherman doesn't sell as much fish, the farmer doesn't sell as many potatoes, the bricklayer doesn't lay as many bricks, the carpenter doesn't hammer as many nails." Since about one out of four of all employed Canadians is directly employed in manufacturing, there can be no doubting the hardships that would accrue to the fishermen and farmers and all other working Canadians if manufacturing went into a severe slump.

The CMA head admits that in the past Canadians have never bought goods on a patriotic basis and that it will be no easy task to sell the public on the extra value that is inherent in any made-in-Canada label. To the consumer, price is always a factor. In some lines Canadian prices may look high when compared with those charged for goods imported from the low-wage countries, or the goods shipped to Canada as the surplus output of the mass-production industries of the U.S.

The big job is to explain the extra values inherent in Canadian-made goods, even when imports carry a bit lower price tag. When a Canadian buys something that was made in Canada, points out Mr. Lush, he is giving employment to a fellow-Canadian, and, while it is a long chain of events, that purchase sooner or later assures the buyer that his own source of income, and of further buying power, is secure.

Another way of saying it is that when we buy an imported article in preference to a Canadian-made item that is competitive in quality and price, we take a certain number of hours of work from a Canadian, and thus deprive him of employment to a foreign factory worker—and he in turn buys from the fishermen and farmers and other workers in his own country. So no doubt there are extra values in the "Buy Canadian" idea.

Hospital auxiliary launches campaign for portable X-ray

Plans to raise $1,000 for the purchase of a portable X-ray machine for the local hospital, the main item of business at the May meeting of St. Anthony's hospital auxiliary held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Byth last Tuesday afternoon. The annual May tea, formerly sponsored by the auxiliary, cannot be held this year because the basement, as well as the two church basements, are being used as schools. It was decided, instead, to conduct a district-wide canvas in an attempt to raise the necessary funds for the X-ray machine. The surrounding districts, serviced by the hospital, will also be approached for donations. — The Miner, Esterhazy, Sask.

Legal drugs for incurables

A report out of Ottawa speculates that, in an attempt to do something constructive about the problem of drug addicts, Canada may experiment with clinics where addicts could obtain narcotic doses legally. The idea is that almost all Canada's 3,000 known addicts are incurable, and that supervised clinics would take the profit out of the illicit drug trade and permit the addict to live an otherwise normal life. This supervised clinic approach to the problem was specifically rejected by the special Senate Committee report of 1955; nor does it appear to have been an unequalled success in other countries. But catering and caring for addicts is a considerable cost to the country; most of them finance their narcotics buying through crime, which is as often cost to the country; and the trade spawns and supports a criteria of criminals whose activities are a fair art of the national crime bill. So it does not seem a bad idea to experiment at least with supplying cheap, legal drugs to incurable addicts.—C.J.H.

Seed cleaning plant committee formed

The Seed Cleaning Plant committee held a meeting on April 25 which was fairly well attended at Unity. There were approximately 40 out to the meeting and Mr. J. K. Jackson spoke to the farmers, and also answered all questions in regards to the operation of such a plant. Mr. Jackson has built several such plants and operates two of them at present. Mr. G. F. Porteous of the Department of Co-operation explained the organization procedure and Mr. Allan Rugg, district ag. rep., also gave some advice on the operation of the proposed plant.—The Herald, Unity, Sask., May 7, 1958.

Canadian plants, Dr. R. A. Waud of the Department of Pharmacology, Faculty of Medicine, University of Western Ontario, detected in Star of Bethlehem, cardiac activity similar to that shown by digitalis. In Toronto here, three years ago we began a chemical study looking toward the isolation of the active constituents from the plant. This type of research requires large amounts of material, since the amount of active material in dried Star of Bethlehem bulbs (dry weight of the bulb is about 25 to 40 percent of its normal weight) is probably less than 1/2 percent. We have made good progress in our studies here and we feel we are reasonably close to the preparation of the pure material. However, now that the growing season is here again, our annual need is likewise here again. I would, therefore, appeal to you in your position with the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, in the hope that we might have wide publicity in the weekly newspapers for this research need.

The material is most active during the flowering stage. Consequently, if any readers of the Canadian weekly newspapers felt they would like to donate some of their Star of Bethlehem plant for heart research, we at the Faculty of Pharmacy, University of Toronto, 46 Gerrard Street East, Toronto 2, Ontario, would be most grateful if they would send the material during the flowering stage. The way in which this is best done is to separate the tops from the bulbs and send the bulbs only express collect to the above address. We shall be happy to acknowledge individually each contribution of plant material.

We feel this project is most important since there are indications that Star of Bethlehem's active constituent may be of use in patients who do not respond to digitalis. Thank you very much, Mr. Teifer, for your most co-operative spirit.

Yours very sincerely,
 G. R. PATTERSON,
 Associate Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE ON UTILITIES INSTALLATION

With crews working at several points in and around town, the water and sewer installation on Grenfell is providing wonderful material for sidewalk superintendents, spring-feevee addicts with an hour to kill, and particularly the children.

Northwest of town the earth-work for the sewage lagoon has been largely completed. Looking like a large rectangular coliseum (less seats) the basin has been scooped out, built up and packed to provide a reservoir for sewage from town. Running from it into the main sewer, which at the intersection of Athabasca Avenue and Stella Street (Carl Bohn residence), there, like military equipment, the big dragline and supporting machines were parked—ready for the onslaught on the town proper.

To the southwest, Neil Deagle's dragline had chewed its way across the Ernie Welch farm and was half-way across a field on the Lovett farm. Ahead of it, pipe was strung out to the town limits. Back of it, at the water reservoir site in the Fotheringham coles, another dragline was tearing out the mucky bottom of the drain while scrapers were poised ready for action on the dam proper.

A centre of interest in town during the week was the trencher working on Pheasant street. Digging a trench as deep as 15 feet the huge machine inched its way from the Pheasant and Front street intersection (Gib Tomlinson residence) south for a block and a half. Large rocks along the progress the first few days of operation as men laid and covered sewer pipe behind the advancing machine. Large excavations have been left open for manholes. The clay-covered road has given residents a hint of what is in store when future rains mix in with the utilities installation.

TREES PLANTED ON TOWN STREETS

As a step toward beautifying Rockliffe, town council recently obtained and planted about 300 Manchurian elm trees along the streets of the town.

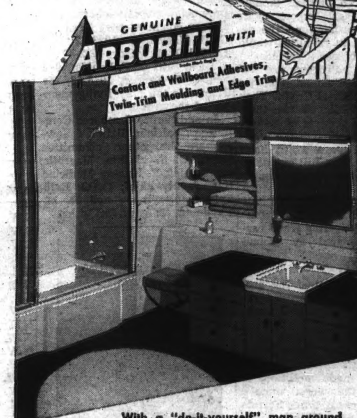

The planting was done since Rockliffe is expected to have waterworks soon.

Tenders for the construction of a water system were opened at a recent meeting of council.

Estimated temperature of the earth's centre is about 9,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON—Albertans will be taking a $2.50 cut this year in their oil and gas royalty dividend payments.

Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinnman last week announced that the dividend this year will be $17.50, compared with $20 last year. The payments will be made out of a $10,000,000 fund appropriated by the Legislature this year. Last year's fund was $11,000,000.

The reduction in the payments is due to a drop in oil and gas royalties. Under the Dividend Act, the province must divide a third of royalties to pay the dividends.

A new system of distribution will be introduced this year in an effort to cut down on the wholesale abuses which cost the province thousands of dollars last year. A new dividend branch of the treasury department will handle the payments.

Applications will be sent by mail to persons who are qualified for dividends last year, and more will be available from government offices for persons who qualify but are not on the list. The big difference this year is that the applications will be checked before the money is paid out. Last year, citizens just called at chartered banks or treasury branches, filled out an application form and collected the loot. The law is still catching up with smart operators who cashed in on more than their share.

With an election coming up in a year or two, the government undoubtedly would have preferred to declare a bigger dividend. At the time the program was introduced, officials thought large-scale gas export was around the corner, and the resulting boost in royalties would have meant bigger dividends.

Opposition politicians are still confident the dividend plan has backfired on Social Credit. They think the public shares their view that it's a waste of money, particularly in view of the number of fraud cases which have come to light. The full extent of abuses may never be known. A report tabled in the Legislature this year didn't tell the full story, but the cost of distribution and investigating fraud cases was estimated at around $200,000.

The new air arm of the provincial government forest service is getting its first real work-out.

General rains late last week eased the situation considerably, but so far this spring, hot, dry weather has made conditions in the forests the worst since a couple of years ago when Forests Minister Norman Wilmore declared a state of emergency.

As a result of the experience in 1956 when flames destroyed thousands of acres of valuable timber, the government decided to equip its forestry branch with aircraft. One plane was purchased last year, and others were chartered as the need arose. The results were so good that the lands and forests department purchased a helicopter this year to augment the fixed-wing plane.

Last year wasn't a particularly bad one for forest fires, but this spring has been among the worst. It's too early to get a full report on the operations, but in all likelihood the records will show that the extra mobility by aircraft has helped.

At the end of the week there were 43 fires burning, but only one—in the Rocky Mountain House area—was out of control. So far this year, there have been 108 fires.

Alberta's infant forest industry took another step forward last week with the announcement that the government has signed an agreement with a firm which plans to build a $15,000,000 pulp and newsprint mill near Edmonton. The firm is Alberta West Forest Products Corporation.

Under the agreement, the company has rights to 2,493 square miles of timberland west of Whitecourt, which is 100 miles northwest of Edmonton. Another 2,500 square miles will be set aside for the next 10 years as a reserve for future expansion.

The agreement provides that the company must start construction within one year and complete its program within three years. The proposed mill will have a capacity of 300 tons per day.

It will be the first mill in Al-

Alberta Boy Scout Jamboree in July

More than 1,550 Boy Scouts from Alberta and the Northwest Territories will attend the Second Alberta Boy Scout Jamboree from July 5 to 12 inclusive. This was announced recently by J. A. W. Blake, Calgary, jamboree chairman.

The campsite is in the picturesque Hillsdale Flats region of Banff National Park—12 miles west of Banff on the old Lake Louise highway. All boys attending the jamboree must be second-class scouts by May 31.

"Looking Ahead" is the theme of the jamboree which will feature scouting survival camping. While spending a week under canvas, the scouts will be afforded the opportunity to participate in many beneficial activities such as demonstrations, scout skitdays, tours, hikes and morning swims.

The jamboree will be divided into four sub-camps and a headquarters which will be named in honor of the last five Alberta provincial commissioners. The former commissioners were: Dr. G. H. Macdonald, 1923-32; Hon. Lt. Col. J. H. Woods, 1932-40; W. S. Dick, 1940-47; F. Foulds, 1947-53; and N. E. Tanner, 1953-58. Mr. Tanner is the only living member of the group.

In addition to Jamboree Committee Chairman Blake, following are the other committee heads: C. S. Matkin, Magrath, camp chief; E. Kumm, Medicine Hat, deputy chief; and R. M. Bell, Calgary, services; and R. M. Hyndman, Calgary, activities.

Wind Spraying

It's time to get the sprayer cleaned up and ready to go so that there will be no delays when crops and weeds are in the right conditions to spray. The earlier weeds can be sprayed the easier they are to kill and the more benefit the crop will get from reducing the competition. 2, 4-D ester is the most effective to use on most weeds in wheat and barley. As oats are most susceptible it is better to use 2, 4-D amine or M.C.P. Follow the directions on the container regarding mixing your chemical with water. Know what you are spraying for. Some weeds are much easier to kill than others and the spraying should be done accordingly. Remember also that chemicals are not an all-around control, they will not take the place of good farming and a poor farmer cannot hope to control weeds with chemicals alone. Watch for such weeds as Tartary Buckwheat, Toad Flax and Leafy Spurge because they require different control measures.

Seed Cleaning Plant

It is nice to see the seed cleaning plant at Wainwright under construction at last. This has been a long time in getting going. The plant will be ready to operate by late summer. This will be the twenty-fourth such plant in the province and they are proving to be very popular for both seed cleaning and for cleaning commercial grain. Farmers are finding that they can often get a better grade on their commercial grain after cleaning and they have the screenings for feed instead of paying, shipping costs on them in the grain.

What About Gullies in Fields

Gullies make it hard to work fields and keep getting worse. Filling, levelling and seeding them down to grass will provide a water course which doesn't interfere with land work, and which doesn't work out every year. It is possible to get some assistance on the cost of grass seed for these areas if you apply to this office.

Purchasing a Farm Under F.P.A.

Many farmers have not interpreted the Farm Purchase Act correctly, says G. R. Sterling, Chairman of Alberta's Conservation and Utilization Committee. Let's take two farmers for example. One is wishing to buy the other's farm. We shall refer to them as Mr. Smith, buyer and Mr. Jones, seller. Having agreed on the total price of the land involved and the number of years Mr. Smith will have for payment, they bring their transaction to the Farm Purchase Credit Board for processing. They must not make up a sale of agreement between themselves, nor is it possible for Mr. Smith to obtain actual cash from a Farm Purchase Board to pay Mr. Jones.

When their application is approved Mr. Smith must make a down payment of 20% of the purchase price and leave it with the Board. After Mr. Jones receives the 20% cash and an agreement of sale covering 40% of the total price, this agreement of sale is guaranteed by the Province and the Municipality, and is honored whether Mr. Smith, the buyer, pays for the land or not. After the Provincial Government has proof that the land is registered in the name of the Farm Purchase Board, the loan of 40% is forwarded to the Board. This in turn is given to Mr. Jones. When the whole transaction is completed, Mr. Jones, the seller, receives 60% in cash and an agreement of sale during the remainder.

The agreement of sale covering the remaining 40% carries a stipulation that Mr. Jones will accept 10% of any loss that may occur. This does not mean 10% of the total price but rather 10% of any loss—for example, if Mr. Smith (the original purchaser) is disappointed and if the farm has to be sold for less than the amount owed to Mr. Jones and the Government by the Board. In most cases this loss would be very small. A person making a Farm Purchase sale must accept complete loss whereas under this Act he accepts only 10% of the loss.

Viking Downs Vegreville 11-6 In Baseball League Opener

(From The Viking News)

A windy, cloudy Sunday afternoon saw Viking defeat Vegreville 11-6 in the season opener on the local diamond. A surprising number of fans braved the weather to sit in on the three-hour long contest and take a look at the new 1958 edition of the Viking Shamrocks.

Vegreville, first up to bat, failed to go anywhere in the first inning and were unable to score. Bulch Fischer, Kevin Gleeson, Gabriel Brissard, and Larry Procktor all scored runs during Viking's first trip to bat.

Harvey Kassian, who was hit at the plate and sent first, scored Vegreville's first run. He was followed by Diachuk who came home when the throw to third was missed. In Viking's turn to bat, Fischer hit into a double play and Brissard was thrown out at first to retire the side scoreless.

In the third inning, Storochuk counted one for Vegreville before Viking's Dunbar and Procktor scored on a beautiful grounder hit by Gooliaff. Third inning score: Viking 6, Vegreville 3.

When a party is in the offing, the hostess' choice of refreshments is usually quite limited. Some suggestions for after-the-game or after-the-dance parties are as follows:

To satisfy the hungry young graduates try cooked salami wedges made by spreading slices of bread with mustard and alternating bread and salami. Use a 3 in. cookie cutter or the sharper edge of a Vegetable can to cut through the bread and meat. Cut each salami sandwich into quarters. Press a toothpick into each wedge. The centre of the tray could be filled with sliced cooked ham wrapped around cooked chilled asparagus, or stalks of crisp celery. This is different from the usual sandwich. A tray of crisp relishes and beverage plus dessert complete the glamorous buffet especially planned for young appetites. One could also have several sandwiches prepared and ready to be scooped onto sliced party bread.

For after-the-game party try a snack-snack from fully cooked frank and corn muffin mix. Serve this with steaming hot spiced cider in mugs with cinnamon stick muddlers. A variety of fresh fruits that can be eaten out of hand completes the menu and creates a colorful table decoration.

As change from the usual sandwiches; serve some nut or fruit bread, e.g., date and nut loaf, cranberry bread, or orange bread. They can be served with butter only, or with cream cheese or a tart jelly.

For those preparing tea in large quantities here is a simplified method of making it:

TEA ESSENCE
1 cup tea
3 cups boiling water
Follow directions as for making tea and allow to steep for 9 minutes. Strain. The essence thus made can be kept for hours and tea can be made by adding fresh boiling water to taste. YIELDS: about 50 cups of tea.

Semnuh scored in the top of the 4th, followed around the bases by Ruptash and L. Steinbach who came in on Storochuk's hit to right field. As Viking came to bat, Lakusta was replaced in right field by Sawchuk and Dennis Kassian came on to replace Semnuh, the pitcher. Viking was then held scoreless in spite of Brissard's nicely hit ball that bounced over the centre field fence.

Halfway through the top of the fifth inning, Viking's manager John Akers motioned Gleeson in from centre field to take over from Makar at the mound. Gooliaff moved to centre field to make room for Makar in right. Fischer and Brissard exchanged positions, Fischer playing third and Brissard going to left field. The strategy paid off as L. Steinbach hit into a double play to retire the side. Another run by Procktor plus runs scored by Makar and Gooliaff on Fischer's line drive to centre, broke the 6-6 deadlock.

With the insertion of Ed Kassian as pitcher in the bottom of the 7th, the game turned into a 3-up and 3-down affair with the exception of the 6th inning when runs by Dunbar and Brissard for the Shamrocks completed the scoring.

At the top of the 8th inning, both teams and league officials lined up on the field as all in the park observed two minutes silence in honour of the late "Stub" Trueman, one of the officials of the Northwestern Utilities Baseball League.

The game was marked by many errors, most of them due to no doubt to the wind and dust, very thick on the infield at times. Actually, this was the team's third game. On Monday, May 19, they were defeated by Foreburg in the Loughheed ball tournament and last Friday they trounced Holden 17-7 in Holden. The players would like to thank the loyal fans who turned out for Sunday's game in spite of the adverse weather.

The starting line-ups were as follows:

VEGREVILLE: Diachuk, catcher; Semnuh, pitcher; H. Kassian, 1st base; Ruptash, 2nd base; L. Steinbach, 3rd base; Storochuk, ss; Lakusta, r.f.; C. Steinbach, c.f.; Hughton, l.f.

VIKING: Dunbar, catcher; Makar, pitcher; Prior, 1st base; Josephson, 2nd base; Brissard, 3rd base; Procktor, ss; Gooliaff, r.f.; Gleeson, c.f.; Fischer, l.f.

Umpire-in-Chief: B. Douglas. Base Umpire: George Plush.

The Viking Shamrocks play in Two Hills twice this week. Wednesday night's game was on the regular league schedule but on Saturday the team will play in a ball tournament there. We hope to have a full league schedule for next week's issue.

Three centres cited for safety

Three Saskatchewan cities were among national centres cited for going through 1957 without a traffic fatality.

Named by the Canadian highway safety conference in Edmonton were Weyburn, Yorkton and Lloydminster.

Weyburn currently is in its 1,305th day without a fatality, the best record by far of any provincial city of a comparable population rating.

All three centres are in the 5,000 to 10,000 class.

Weyburn's record surpasses that of Medicine Hat, Alta., singled out by the conference for having the best record in the over 20,000 population category. The Alberta city has had 1,271 fatality-free days.

Wool fashions prove ideal "Round the World" travelers

As Canadians increase their interest in travel, the resurgence of wool for sportswear, daytime and evening fashions makes news in style centers throughout the nation. This is not a coincidence. Travel interest has definitely increased the consumer's demand for clothes that are right for various climates, right for minimum luggage requirements, and right for fashion-conscious wear around the clock.

Wool ensembles this season are not fashions that lose their fashion-appeal when one or more parts are banished for the occasion. Designers have travel demands in mind, apparently, with almost every such fashion they create.

"Minimum luggage" is a point of serious consideration to every wise traveler. Variety of climates encountered on a trip, for instance, from Regina to Europe with a stopover in New York, demands that the traveler think of fashions that are right for a sunny day or a chilly one—right for city streets or a small town. The answer is proving to be solidly and surely: wool fashions.

Wool is a fabric that gives the traveler a costume that can really travel. She knows that it will resist wrinkles—that a little crinkling in the suitcase can be overcome with a few minutes of steam in the hotel bathroom. A fashion hung on the shower rod for less than a half hour, while she is dressing, means a fashion that is sleek and bandbox fresh as it was when packed before her trip. She is definitely in favor of the practical side of this. Designers are also in favor of the new light weight, the beauty of the year's new wool colors, and the fabulous variety of wool fabrics available.

Let a woman lose a part of her travel wardrobe and her vacation is ruined. Struggling down the Champs Elysees in a smartly cut wool suit, a woman can truly enjoy the sights of Paris. Force her to wear her three-season-old raincoat, or something she has hurriedly selected while waiting for her carefully planned luggage to catch up with her, and the sights of Paris lose much of their lustre. This idea was set forth by a man who knows his travelers. The right clothes can make or break a woman's vacation, or a man's success in business travel.

Fashions that are ideal for home, are also ideal for travel. No woman has to buy a wool wardrobe "just for travel". The fashions she purchases are perfect for her home town wear, or big city wear. Today you simply cannot be wrongly dressed in a fashionable lightweight wool suit no matter where you step and this is true almost 12 months of the year. As wool fabrics become more light in weight, their time-honored versatility offers new and even more astounding versatility in styles for wear around the clock. The "travel assurance" that belongs uniquely to wool is one of the prime factors that is sending the fabric to the top of the fashion bracket in our age of travel. It is true that every person wants to be economical but it is impossible to find a person who wishes to look economical. This is particularly true of a traveler, whose enjoyment can only be at its height when he feels she is looking neatly and becomingly dressed. A wool fashion can be obtained for any price from high to low. The fabric itself however, and the very fact that it is of all wool, is always a "prestige fabric".

Canary Islands

The Canary Islands, in the Atlantic Ocean about 60 miles off the northwestern coast of Africa, were known to the Romans. They referred to them as canaria, from the Latin word for dog, "canis", because they were overrun with wild dogs. They were also called the "Fortunate Islands". Later they were forgotten and were rediscovered by Europeans near the end of the 13th century.

FASHION ASSURANCE—A guarantee you will arrive at your destination sleek and unwrinkled. The wool fabric is being used widely this season for sleek-line fashions made to stay that way. The waistline of this immaculately tailored suit with coordinated top coat is draped soft and low for a modified blouse line at the back. Tiny self-covered buckle dramatizes stitched-down belt encircling low-placed waist. Jacket ending fits smooth and neatly. Narrow shawl collar at front . . . buttons from low V line to jacket ending. Straight skirt has deep cut panel pleats giving ease and tailored motion to hemline. Fabric is moss soft wool flannel in "sky-line" blue.
